LIVE GENEROUSLY

Rev. Darren Brandon, Senior Pastor

Watching a bumblebee and butterfly work the same sunflower, I think of how they receive the nectar from flowers and give the gift of pollination. There are many ways to respond to the climate crisis. We plant zinnias, sunflowers, and trees.

The work of pollinators shows us that giving and receiving need each other to exist. Take a moment to think about it. There is no gift without someone to receive it, and receiving requires someone to give.

Giving and receiving are seen in the rhythm of Jesus' life and ministry. He goes away to pray and emerges to share what God has given him. He does this over and over again. We observe this in his closest relationships, too. I am thinking of him receiving a meal and blessing at the home of Mary, Martha, and Lazarus. He then offers his insights as a gift.

Finding the balance between giving and receiving can be a challenge. We all know someone who is willing to take, take, take without ever pausing to express gratitude to the person who helped or to pay it forward. On the other hand, we also know those who are uncomfortable with receiving. They give, give, give almost to the point of depleting themselves. We all need to give and receive in order to live well.

Reflect for a moment on how you experience generosity. Consider the idea that both giving and receiving have the potential to bless. Please take a moment and focus on your practice of giving and receiving. Let's begin with encouragement.

Who do you know that needs some encouragement this week? Plan how to encourage them: a note, call, email, or speak to them in person. Give the gift of encouragement when you are ready.

Now, think of how you can receive well. Listen for when someone affirms you. When it happens, please take a moment and express what it means to you. Say something like, "That really means a lot."

One final important piece. Begin with yourself. If you have made it this far in the article, let's close with the simple practice of focusing on our breath. Breathe in and receive. Breathe out and give. Once more. Breathe in and receive. Breathe out and give. When we give generously and receive gratefully, then everyone is blessed.

Grace and Peace,
Darren

Children's Sabbath

October 15 – Both services

You won't want to miss our worship services on October 15th. Our St. Paul kids will be greeting, ushering, reading scripture, and praying in both services! Our youth choir and kids choirs will also sing in both services. This is a unique opportunity for our younger church family members to step into new roles that are usually filled by adults. This would be a great Sunday to invite friends and family who don't typically attend church!

Acolytes

We held Acolyte training on Sunday, September 24th, for nine of our kids! Our new acolytes will be installed on October 8th in the traditional service and will begin helping in worship in traditional worship on October 15th. We are grateful for their willingness to serve St. Paul in this special way, and we pray the experience blesses them as much as their presence blesses us.

New Vision Goal: Visitor Follow-up

by Brad Matthews

You may have heard, recently, that St. Paul has a new vision goal: Visitor Follow Up. Having completed our goal of staff alignment and finally returning to normal and in-person worship hours, more people have been in the pews on Sunday morning as well as attending our service online. In the last nine months, we have also been blessed with new faces who are walking through our doors to worship with us. This is a very healthy sign!

The banner at the top of our bulletin each Sunday proclaims, "St. Paul: A United Methodist Community" and the Kentucky Conference has identified us as one of its Lighthouse churches. We state that our mission is to be a welcoming and inclusive congregation. I am thankful for these statements of purpose, and I believe that they are true. The question, however, is not whether we think we have the right mission but do others see us that way? What makes us appear to be a welcoming and inclusive church? Before you read any further, take a minute to reflect on why you were at St. Paul last Sunday. What caused you to come in the first place and what made you want to stay? (Really think about it for a minute).

While some of us may have grown up here, others have moved from other churches seeking something. We may have been invited or may have been "church shopping" and found something we liked. Perhaps our children were first involved in our youth group, Sunday school, Scout troop, or one of our church camps in the summer. Whatever your reason, you liked how it felt and who you were with. And, most importantly, you found nourishing food for the soul.

There are new faces among us now. Since the beginning of this year, we have had at least 78 new adults and 18 children come to one of our worship services on Sunday. Of those visitors, 18 are now members and another person has expressed interest in becoming a member. Some are participating in one or more church activities or groups. Some have attended only once, others are attending on a regular basis. What we can be sure of is that our new and regular visitors make a conscious decision every Sunday about whether to attend or be somewhere else. We need to be sure to welcome them and let them know that we are glad they are here. Let them know we want to know their name and greet them that way. That may sound simple, but it takes an effort on our part. We may have good intentions about wanting to do that, but we also have to be intentional and DO THAT every chance we get.

This coming Sunday, I hope that you will take a minute to look around you and search for someone that you do not know or have not seen. Before or after the service, go up to them and extend the hand of fellowship. Do not worry that you may be greeting someone who is already a member. Introduce yourself, tell them that you are not sure if you have met, and ask them for their name. Greet them by calling them by name. That simple intentional act of welcoming someone new can make all the difference in making someone want to come back and worship with us again.

The Vision Goal for Visitor Follow-up is to be intentional about welcoming new and regular visitors by greeting all who attend our worship services, providing a follow-up response from our pastors, providing information about our church, and inviting individuals and families to become a part of our St. Paul community. Our new goal works well with other vision goals, including Small Groups and Membership Engagement, Family/Children/Youth Ministry, and Senior Adults Ministry. So how do we use the many wonderful programs under these goals to include new and regular visitors? It starts with a feeling of being welcomed.

Poet Edwin Markham's famous quote describes well what we want St. Paul to be about. "He drew a circle that shut me out—Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout. But love and I had the wit to win: We drew a circle and took him In!" May we all be intentional about drawing our circle wide to welcome all who walk through our doors. Let's be intentional about greeting each other, especially persons we do not know. We have so much to offer if we can get someone to want to return.

Give Blood!

American
Red Cross

Highlands Community Blood Drive

Tuesday, October 31, 1-5pm, Youth Center

Are you "feline" like you should/could give blood this month? If so, you're in luck! Our Red Cross blood drive will be Tuesday, October 31, from 1-5pm in the Youth Center. I'm sure there will be more treats than tricks! Make an appointment at redcrossblood.org. And if you can't make it on Tuesday, please find a time & place convenient for you. The need is great.

Thanks!

Prayer Beading Group

Two opportunities!

Sunday, October 8, in the Common Cup

Wednesday, October 25, in Room 113

Our Prayer Beading group meets on the 2nd Sunday of each month at 1:00pm in the Common Cup. Sundays don't work for you? No problem! Join us Wednesday, October 25 for a special Wesley Night prayer beading session!

Prayer beads are given to those who are in the hospital or grieving. They are also given to those who have joined St. Paul.

We could use your assistance in providing the needed supplies. We have an Amazon wish list where supplies can be ordered and shipped directly to the church. You may also donate any beads or crosses you may have; just drop them off at the church office. Learn more about St. Paul's Prayer Bead Ministry and find a link to the Amazon wish list here:

United Women in Faith

The next meeting of United Women in Faith will be Tuesday, October 10 at 10:00am in Room 113. The title of our lesson is "Who is Jesus-What does he have to do with my money?". This is our annual pledge service to remember the names and nature of Jesus and renew our commitment of financial support to address the needs of women, children and youth through Pledge to Mission. Everyone is welcome to attend or give a financial gift in honor or in memory of someone.

Women's Fall Bible Study on Mark

Wednesdays from 10:00-11:30am, Room 113, beginning September 13

Our Fall Bible study on the Gospel of Mark continues, using the established Genesis to Revelation curriculum. Women of the Word is a caring group of women at various ages and stages of life. We have a good time, eat good food, pray for each other, and learn from scripture. All are welcome! If anyone is interested who might need childcare, please let us know.

Join a Small Group

Looking for a Small Group or class to join? Check out all our offerings in the Small Groups Directory! This document has a wealth of information about groups for all ages. Find printed copies around the church or peruse the directory online at:

Waller-Williams Thanksgiving Boxes

The Waller-Williams Environmental School is a JCPS school for students with severe emotional or behavioral issues. Each year, St. Paul partners with Waller-Williams to provide Thanksgiving boxes to the families of their students. Each box contains all the items for a Thanksgiving meal, except for the turkey, which is provided by another partner.

Last year, St. Paul delivered around 100 Thanksgiving boxes to the Waller-Williams school. This year, Waller-Williams has 110 students, and St. Paul will again provide Thanksgiving boxes to these students' families.

Here's how you can help!

1. Select a food item from one of the bulletin boards in the gym or near McAdams Hall. Purchase that item, then drop it off at the church by Sunday, October 15.

2. Help us pack the Thanksgiving Boxes

On Sunday, October 22 from 10:00-11:00am, we will gather in McAdams Hall to pack the Thanksgiving boxes - always a fun event for the whole congregation to enjoy!

2023 St. Paul Boar's Head & Yule Log Festival Planning Underway Be a Part of this Gift to Our Community

This year marks the 44th Anniversary of the St. Paul UMC Boar's Head and Yule Log Festival, an event that brings visitors from Louisville and all over the region to share in a unique depiction of the gift of Christ to the world.

The Festival performance was created by a core group of visionary individuals and has continued with the leadership and commitment of a number of long-time St. Paul members and volunteers. Many have appeared on stage and worked behind the scenes over the years as the Festival has grown.

Last year, we made some significant changes in the performance schedule and replaced the dinner with a reception that includes visits from the cast and photos with the Boar! The change was a success and will be continued this season.

The Festival is a wonderful opportunity to showcase St. Paul's youth and children. Even college-age young people look forward to participating in the Festival as part of their holiday plans.

Altogether, approximately 75 volunteers serve in various roles and have a wonderful time of fellowship in rehearsals and shows.

Four performances will be offered: two shows each day – Friday, December 29 and Saturday, December 30 at 5:30 and 8:00pm. A reception will follow each performance.

Watch for news about casting and preparations for the Festival, and look for a request for contributions, as we depend on your support to put on the show.

Ticket information will be shared in early December.

Thank you from

Dear St. Paul family, 9/16/23
Thank you for your continued support of Smoketown Family Wellness Center. I am grateful for the commitment of generosity as a church body toward SFWC as well as for the many individual donations from St. Paul staff and members on Give for Good Day. We are blessed to have you as faithful partners.
Thank you for continuing to share your hearts of compassion to benefit the staff and families of Smoketown Family Wellness Center. I am grateful for your love and support.
Love, Julia

Hymn of the Month for October: Freely, Freely

by Dr. Lori Elbert, Director of Koinonia Worship

Perhaps you have wondered or been asked by a child in your life, "Why do we sing at church?" We sing because the Bible is full of exhortations to sing in our joys and our sorrows. We sing because in our songs we are reminding ourselves of the truths of the Gospel and how we are to live out our Christian faith.

This month we are looking at the hymn "Freely, Freely." It was written by Carol Owens in 1972 and came out of the Jesus Movement in California. It was first used as part of a musical called "Come Together: a Musical Experience of Love." The Musical was performed in England 400 times, often in large venues as a way to introduce people to the love of Jesus.*

Owens said the text came to her as part of her morning devotions in the Gospel of Matthew. You can hear Matthew 10:7-8 echoed in the chorus: "As you go, proclaim this message: 'The kingdom of heaven has come near.' Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse those who have leprosy, drive out demons. Freely you have received; freely give." [NIV] There are also echoes of the great commission in Matthew 28:18-20.

Then Jesus came to them and said, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age."

Sing this song around your home this month. Put the words up on your fridge or your mirror where you will see them often. As we think about living generously this month, remember all that God has done for you and how you should live out God's generosity in your own life.

A YouTube video to sing along with: <https://youtu.be/morHP2cJoZs>

God forgave my sin in Jesus' name.
I've been born again in Jesus' name.
And in Jesus' name I come to you
to share His love as He told me to.
He said...

CHORUS

Freely, freely, you have received;
Freely, freely give.
Go in My name and, because you believe,
others will know that I live.

All pow'r is giv'n in Jesus' name;
in earth and Heav'n in Jesus' name,
and in Jesus' name I come to you
to share His power as He told me to.
He said... (CHORUS)

God gives us life in Jesus' name;
He lives in us in Jesus' name,
and in Jesus' name I come to you
to share His peace as He told me to.
He said... (CHORUS)

OUR STORY

The question wasn't about whether or not aging exists, but about how we respond to aging. We must pursue aging with vigor because it is certainly pursuing us. There is a better response to aging than resignation. To emphasize this point the word "how" became an acronym which resulted in the three pillars upon which Learning H.O.W. to Age® rests:

Honor the past

Learning H.O.W. to Age® honors each participant's past by encouraging incorporation of their knowledge.

Open to the present

Cultivating mental curiosity, Learning H.O.W. to Age® sparks excitement about what each new class will reveal.

Welcome the future

Using new skills and the benefits that come with Learning H.O.W. to Age®.

Adult Sunday Classes

Did you know?

St. Paul currently has ten adult Sunday morning classes!

All classes meet at 10:00am.

ALDERSGATE | Room 319

Contact: Ray Fore, papa.fore@gmail.com

A study of contemporary books written primarily by Methodist authors and pastors. The class also offers socials throughout the year and mission projects.

BEING UNITED METHODIST | Room 309

Contact: Amy Johnson, amyaleester@gmail.com

A class open to all to develop clarity about what it means to be a United Methodist. Materials to be studied include UMC Social Principles and books by various UMC authors. The intent is to help you better understand what United Methodists believe.

CONNECTIONS | Room 316

Contact: Amy Johnson, amyaleester@gmail.com

A women's studies class. Women strive to develop an authentic connection to God and others by studying various authors to find out what matters most, connecting to God.

GUYS AND GOD | Library (Room 115)

Contact: Amy Johnson, amyaleester@gmail.com

A men's studies class. Men address the many problems in the World and examine the effect of these problems on their souls. It is a deliberate look at what men believe about God, themselves, and the church.

RESILIENT FAITH | Parlor (Room 219)

Contact: Dr. Julia Mitchell, julialanemitchell@gmail.com

The Resilient Faith Sunday school class meets between worship services. Through Scripture and various book studies, we explore examples of suffering and hope as we aspire to have resilient faith. All are welcome to join us for fellowship and discussion.

EXPLORATIONS | Room 110

Contact: Jason Ramsey, jdr Ramsey321@gmail.com

A themed group that typically begins with a presentation on a book followed by small group discussion. This class also plans various social activities throughout the year.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER (LOA) | Room 217

Contact: Kathy Mynhier, kathleenmynhier@gmail.com

This class comprises individuals from all walks and stages of life. Our structured, Bible-based lessons are varied, never dull, lecture and discussion oriented, and use the talents of outside speakers. We have a heart for charity and outreach and love to socialize. The class is equal parts married and single, always looking forward to welcoming new members.

SERENDIPITY | Room 111

Contact: John Stivers, jwriterjohn@gmail.com

Our class is made up of older adults (60 and up) but we welcome anyone who wants to study scripture in an interpretive way. In other words, we look at different modes and slants rather than deciding that "this is the only way to read or hear it." We have spent most of our time in the New Testament but refer back to the Old Testament often since many of Jesus' words are recitations. Although we have some structure, we are open to prayer and discussion on needs as they come up and/or current events.

UM FAMILY | Room 305

Contact: Amy Johnson, amyaleester@gmail.com

A class for parents to discover God's intentions and plans for families. This is an opportunity for parents to share stories and support one another as they navigate family life.

VINE & BRANCHES | Room 113

Contact: Denny Edge, edge.denzil@gmail.com

A study group facilitated by a rotation of members focused on reading books of the Bible. The class periodically hosts potlucks and service activities.

THE TOWER

ST. PAUL UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

The St. Paul staff went bowling! Both strikes and gutter balls were plentiful, but the goal was simply to have fun, which was achieved! Purple attire was worn to support "Sport Purple for Platelets," which raises awareness about ITP (Immune Thrombocytopenia).
